

Peter Knight Bio

Peter Knight, who joined FHLBank Pittsburgh in 2002, is responsible for directing the Government Relations Department, developing GR positions and strategies, and leading an outreach program to support the Bank's public policy purpose. Throughout his career, Peter has worked on financial services issues in Washington's public policy arena.

After graduating from Yale University, he worked for several members of Congress who served on the House Banking Committee. Following his time on Capitol Hill, Peter held multiple government relations positions with public and private sector companies, including Fannie Mae, the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks, the National Council of Savings Institutions (which became America's Community Bankers), the Resolution Trust Corporation and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC).

Peter has worked on many significant financial services laws including the Garn-St Germain Act; the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery and Enforcement Act of 1989; the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act and the Dodd-Frank Act.
