Letters of Credit for Public Unit Deposit Accounts

As the finance manager of a public entity, you are responsible for securing your public funds. Perhaps you accept only triple-A-rated securities as collateral for prudent reasons. But did you know it's very likely that your state allows you to accept FHLBank Pittsburgh's Letters of Credit (LCs) in lieu of securities collateral?

As the custodian of your funds, financial institutions may be required to regularly monitor and report on the value of securities collateral. If so, this can add to your oversight burdens. With an LC, your time and resources may be deployed to other matters since the value of an LC is consistent and stable.

An LC issued by FHLBank Pittsburgh may be superior to securities collateral because it delivers the following benefits:

- An LC is an irrevocable, unconditional obligation of FHLBank Pittsburgh that ensures the safety of your deposits and provides for timely payout if the need arises
- Eliminates market value fluctuations and collateral calls – an LC's face amount remains fixed
- Reduces monitoring and reporting required for securities collateral

*We can support your public unit deposits with an LC issued by FHLBank Pittsburgh, which has credit ratings of Aaa and AA+, according to Moody's and Standard & Poor's, respectively.

FHLBank Pittsburgh LCs are acceptable collateral in 47 states, including Delaware, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, the District of Columbia and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

What is a Letter of Credit?

An LC is an independent obligation issued by one party on behalf of another as an irrevocable promise to a third-party beneficiary. When FHLBank Pittsburgh issues an LC to you on our behalf, it agrees to make certain payments to you if the need arises.

*Standard & Poor's and Moody's Investors Service are both Nationally Recognized Statistical Rating Organizations. These organizations rank the creditworthiness of borrowers by using a standardized rating scale that measures expected investor loss in the event of a default. Ratings of Aaa (Moody's) and AA+ (Standard & Poor's) are deemed to be very high quality with a very low degree of risk. An obligor carrying such a rating is thought to have an extremely strong capacity to meet its financial commitments.
